PROJECT

STEEPED IN NAVARASA

'Jaltarang', designed by architect Shruti Purohit is a residence soaked in Indian literature, culture and art.

'Jaltarang', located in Bhopal, is a space designed by Architect Shruti Purohit founder of Nine Squares Architects Pvt. Ltd. Indore (M.P.), India. Jaltarang, the name itself is an apt portrayal of the owners' personalities. Soaked in Indian literature, culture & arts, the owners are all about simplicity, music, and rhythm. Bubbling with energy for sharing their knowledge of the arts, the enthusiasm of this sixty-plus couple is infectious. An open house for friends, family, saahityakaars, and more, with spaces enabling social gatherings and 'goshtis' (talks), celebrations, and humdrum of grandchildren.

COURTYARD DREAMS

Flora riverside was designed with a resort-like ambiance which the Architect Ishwar Gehi has achieved by a balance of hard and soft landscape elements.

Situated on the riverside of Machhuriver, India as the name suggests flora riverside is Ishwar Gehi's one of most favorite projects. A prolific architect and a passionate builder: Flora Riverside is a result of the confluence of both. A context responsive design and yet one that reflects openness was the design aim for the architect.

A lot of thought was given to the layout of the project to yield the maximum use of the existing natural vista and for the residents to enjoy it completely. A Fancy Arc: forming layout consisting of three types of villas each varying in area, a clubhouse, and large landscaped areas were designed by Ar. Gehi. The nature lover and nature-inspired Ar. Gehi prefers artistic landscape in his projects.
