DESIGNER FOR THE STARS

Designer Joaquin Torres is a designer with a passion for art and a unique style.

Joaquín Torres has designed the homes of Madonna, Penélope Cruz and Javier Bardem, and most of the Real Madrid soccer team. The Spanish "architect of the galactic stars" is known for sleek, modern, elegant designs (think lots of heavy stone, glass, and polished metal), and for his meticulous attention to detail—he even designs the furnishings for many of his homes. His buildings are visually strong, emphatic, almost sculptures within the environment, quite unique. At the same time, they are functional and tremendously practical houses. He was born in Barcelona but later his family shifted to Madrid where all his adolescence resided already. His parents and his familiar origins are Galician (Northwest of Spain).
