Body type

Colorbody tiles combined with exceptional technical characteristics display great versatility and aesthetic richness, perfectly meeting the technical requirements and adding a touch of great elegance and refinement through its in-depth aesthetics.

Versatile contours

The Vitronite Slabs allow versatile edge profiles that increase safety and cater to diverse architectural needs, making the ambiance that invites attention.

Vitronite VS Marble

Crack Proof

Unlike Marble, Vitronite is a matrix of sintered minerals to form an impenetrable surface that cannot be easily cracked.

Shows Visible Cracks

Marble is a natural stone made of metamorphic carbonate that has more pores and can be easily cracked.

Low Maintenance

Vitronite is easy to clean and maintain in comparison with other natural stones that require careful consideration.

Requires High Maintenance

Marble and other natural stone require high maintenance to retain their shine and sheen or they become yellow and dull over time.

Value for money

Due to its techno-rich process, Vitronite proves to be the best choice in the long run.

Highly Expensive

Marble is inherently expensive and has high maintenance, upkeep, and transport cost.

Functional surfaces

Hygienic and suitable for contact with food

Impact resistant

Waterproof

Scratchproof and abrasion-resistant

Stainproof

Easy to clean and maintain

Microbial growth proof

Resistant to chemicals, acids, bases, and solvents

Heat resistant

Suitable for use indoor and outdoor

UV-resistant

Gauranteed flatness and stability over time

Application possibilities

Residential

The feature-rich range of Vitronite Slabs can be used for floor-wall cladding, kitchen countertops, and much more.

Public

The functional, resilient, and aesthetic range of Vitronite Slabs facilitates beauty with utility, creating great utilitarian spaces.

Commercial

Vitronite Slabs prove to be the best choice for commercial areas because of low maintenance and high durability factor.

Hospitality

Creative, vibrant, and feature-rich, Vitronite Slabs are perfect for restaurants and cafes to make a universal style statement.
